Public library	1300	1300.00
Schools and night school	28900	29017.96

Of the figures listed in the table of "Appropriations and Expenditures," those for appropriations are as given in the records of the Town Meeting. The expenditures are figured to give the net, not the gross expense in the different departments. In some cases there are credits that reduce the gross expense. Credits have been figured in the following departments.

Highways and bridges, gross expense	$4573.28
Credits	407.11
	<hr/>	$4166.17
State highway repairs	856.03
Credits	121.79
	<hr/>	734.24

There is also due the town from the state and from the borough of Southington on this account $690.85, which will reduce the final expense to the town for this item to $43.39.

Fire department	$1425.85
Credits	3.00	1422.85
Forest fires	235.45
Credits	106.26	129.19
Almshouse and town farm	3700.31
Credits	1183.40	2516.91
Outside poor	2410.56
Credits	253.85	2156.71
There is also due the town on this account from the town of Bethany $66.50.
Town court	$1339.74
Credits	679.32	660.42
Schools and night school	29524.95
Credits	506.99	29017.96

The credit deducted above is amount received for tuition. The amount to be raised by taxation for the support of the schools is lessened by the amount received from the state for schools, $4,009.25, and by the income from the Addin Lewis fund, $477.84, but the actual cost of carrying on the schools is as given above.

The figures as to the cost of schools are taken from the report of the treasurer of the school committee. His report being made up as of July 14th does not agree exactly with that of the town treasurer whose report is made up as of August 31st, the difference of dates causing a variation. The state law requires that the report of the School Committee be made in July. Both the school committee and the library directors pay bills by orders drawn on the town treasurer. These orders are not always presented properly, making another cause of variation in the accounts of the treasurers.

Public library. The amount of expenditure is as given in the report of the treasurer of the library directors. This does not agree with the amount given in the report of the town treasurer, though both reports are correct. Please see note as to this under "Schools."

Water case. The bill for $5,000 for which appropriation was made under this item was actually paid on August 26th, 1910, and appeared as a payment in last year's town report, the money to pay it being taken at the time from the working funds of the town.

New state highway. No bills for this account have been paid during the year.

The tax laid at the January town meeting on the list of 1910 was 14 mills.

Water Case.

The past year has marked the closing of the suit of the town against the Southington Water company, the taking over by the town of the water works, the appointment of water commissioners and the issuing by the town of bonds to the amount of $222,000 to provide for the payment of the works. A full statement may be expected from the water commissioners in the next annual report.

Selectmen's Report

CLASSIFIED LIST OF ORDERS DRAWN FOR THE YEAR ENDING AUGUST 31st, 1911.

HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES

Weather conditions have been very discouraging the past season for general repairs of the highways of the town. With the exception of a few weeks in the spring, working dirt roads has in most cases been detrimental rather than helpful. The newly moved earth was very quickly transformed into dirt and blew away, leaving stones exposed to travel over. The time usually spent, however, on such work has been well utilized in replacing wooden bridges and culverts with concrete or other permanent construction. During the year the bridges on Waterbury road and one near Atwater's shop have been completed; these are of steel girders and concrete floor and wall construction. Steel beams are on the way for three more bridges of like construction for Mill, Curtis and Spring streets, all crossing the Quinnipiac river. After these bridges are completed, we still have 30 more bridges ranging from 12 feet to 45 feet span, all of wooden construction, that must be replaced within a very few years. We have 150 short span bridges and culverts ranging from 12 foot span down to 10 inch pipe. During the past year we have replaced 35 of these smaller bridges and culverts with concrete or other permanent structure and the expense of this new work is over now for a great many years. Our town seems to have a larger number of bridges than generally falls to the lot of most towns.

The situation, however, should be met in a business way and we plan to eliminate wood from our highways as fast as possible.

The probabilities are that the cost of constructing such work of a permanent character, when spread over a series of 12 or 15 years, will not be any greater than would be expended inconstantly repairing and building over such temporary make shifts. We would also have the satisfaction of having permanent bridges on our hands instead of a constant bill of expense, to say nothing of the liability of damage suits from defective bridges. The so-called Clark Farms macadam road from Pratt's Corner north to near Misery Brook is receiving a dressing of stone preparatory to having same accepted by the state as a state road. The Highway commissioner has also contracted with the town to build the missing link of 850 feet in the trunk line of macadam road on Meriden avenue. This will be a very desirable improvement and also relieve the town of 75 per cent. of the cost for repairs on these roads.

They will also be oiled every summer at state expense.

Last fall the Connecticut company fulfilled the contract of the M. S. & C. Company by raising Spring street to level of track, telford and gravel construction being used.

TOWN FARM

The season of 1911 has been extremely disastrous to farm crops in general on account of the severe drouth and we have suffered with the rest. Short crops at the town farm necessarily mean curtailed receipts. The general results, however, are very gratifying when compared with average conditions all over New England.

NEW BEECHER STREET SCHOOL

In common with others, this town has for some time faced the problem of providing more room for its school attendance. Several meetings have been held, finally resulting in the appointment of a committee to procure a site and cause to be erected thereon a four-room brick building near the Beecher street school. The amount of $15,000 was voted for this object and the building, with a seating capacity of 19 , will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the school year. The following orders have been drawn in partial payment for this building:

Report of Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the School Committee:

In accordance with the usual custom, I herewith submit the annual report of the superintendent of schools. Parents and citizens have a right to expect at least once a year some statement from those in authority concerning the condition of the public school system. The following report has therefore been prepared with the intention of presenting to the people in general the most important facts of an educational character connected with the administration of the Southington public schools.

GENERAL ORGANIZATION OF THE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

The school system of Southington is made up of the Lewis high school, four closely graded elementary schools housed in an eight room, a seven room and two four room buildings and eight outlying rural schools. All of the rural schools except Milldale, which is in a two room building, are of the one room type. The high school offers a full four years' work along classical, general and business lines and the elementary schools are organized with nine grades. The ninth grade is taught in the high school building and is closely affiliated in organization and management with the high school. Not all of the remaining grades are represented in all of the elementary schools. Through the transfer of pupils between the different elementary schools and through the dependence of the high school on the others for its supply of pupils all parts of the system are closely interrelated. Each of these three kinds of schools nevertheless differs sufficiently from the others to present problems of a distinctly individual character and these problems must be treated in detail under separate and appropriate heads.

THE LEWIS HIGH SCHOOL.

Registration

The number of pupils attending the high school during the year just passed is twenty per cent. greater than the year before. In all there were 129. In addition to this number there were 73 pupils in the 9th grade. This makes a total of 202 pupils. This increase in numbers may be due in part to the opportunities afforded by the course in commerce. This course seems to meet an educational need. It was selected by thirty

-two out of the first year class of forty-seven. This was especially gratifying, for, while appealing to the parents and pupils on the practical side, it is seen upon close examination to be satisfactory from an educational point of view. In other words, in addition to the training in business studies it includes all or nearly all of the elements of liberal culture which one would expect to find in a high school of this size. If the interest in the vocational studies which this course offers proves strong enough to secure the attendance of pupils who would otherwise end their schooling with the grammar grades, this new course will contribute to the permanent growth of the high school and to the better education of a greater number of people.

Changes in Teaching Force

The number of changes this year in the teaching force of the high school is unusual. Five teachers, including the principal, resigned. So large a number of resignations is unfortunate. Besides the teachers needed to fill the vacancies, an additional teacher was engaged to take charge of new classes made necessary by the increased registration and by the introduction of the new studies in the course of commerce. In this connection it should be borne in mind that a portion of the teaching in the ninth grade falls to some of the high school teachers. There are now in all eight teachers in charge of about 200 pupils in the high school and ninth grade. Six of these teachers are strangers to the schools. This means practically a complete reorganization of the high school teaching staff.

Inspection by State Board of Education

The inspection of the high school by Professor H. E. Gregory of the State Board of Education took place towards the end of the winter term. His report led to the following approval and recommendations by the State Board of Education, viz: That the Southington high school be approved for the attendance of non-resident pupils for the year 1910-1911 under the provisions of section 2239 of the general statutes, and: It is recommended that (1) a strong English course be provided and made so attractive that most of the students will be included therein; (2) the commercial course and the college preparatory course be so arranged that the work be limited solely of the special purpose of these courses; and (3) an additional teacher be secured.

The course in English, which the State Board recommends, is practically in operation with the exception of the study of biology. This general course is actually taken by many pupils who are nominally registered in the classical course. Moreover, the school committee has felt that it was moving as rapidly towards the broadening and enrichment of the high school curriculum as it was wise to do, both from the point of view of expense and of the efficient organization of the school. In fact, the inspector says, "Since my last report important improvements have been made in the curriculum" and "the course in general has been made richer and more valuable."

The second recommendation concerns a policy in regard to which educational opinion and contemporary practice seem to be more in favor of the plan at present pursued in the high school than of the doctrine advocated by the inspector. The school report is not the place to discuss this question and the matter must be left with the statement that the recommendation was not accepted.

The recommendation of the inspector that an additional teacher be secured came at a time when the committee were seriously considering such a step. The need both present and prospective was admitted, but the desire for an economical administration of the situation led to the seeking of some other way of meeting the need. However, upon due consideration the suggestion of the inspector was adopted.

Approval by College Entrance Certification Board.

The Lewis High School has been approved by the New England College Entrance Certificate Board for three years, commencing January 1, 1911. This is a renewal of the privilege granted previously and means that graduates of the school may, upon the recommendation of the principal, enter without examination colleges and scientific schools accepting the above certification.

Presentation of Silk American Flag

A beautiful silk flag was presented to the Lewis High school of the evening of Wednesday, April 26, at the 28th Anniversary and Flag Presentation of the Women's Relief Corps held at Hartford. That the local high school was selected for this honor is due to the efforts of Mrs. Jane C. Pultz.

It is eminently appropriate for the American flag, the symbol of democracy, to be conspicuously present in every high school. For the high school is no longer simply a fitting school. It is becoming more and more the peoples' college. It should be, therefore, an institution in which the educational needs of every one may be satisfied. The flag which stands for equal opportunities for all in the enjoyment of life and liberty and in the pursuit of happiness may well symbolize the aims and purposes of the American public high school.

School Closed by Scarlet Fever

A number of cases of scarlet fever among the high school pupils caused the health officer to close the school at two different times towards the end of the winter term. The days lost were in part made up by lengthening the summer term, but nevertheless the closing inevitably interrupted the work of the school.

This is the first time, it is said, that the school has been closed for such a reason and there is a disposition to make the evening school pupils responsible for the contagion. But if the disease came from that source, the chances are the trouble would have appeared first among the evening school pupils themselves or in the elementary schools, since it is probable that someone from nearly every family represented in the evening school attends the day school.

School buildings are being more and more widely used for public purposes. Our public school system is a democratic institution: it belongs to the people and to all of the people. In other towns and cities evening schools are invariably held in the regular school houses. In using our high school building for this purpose we did simply what has been found practicable and advisable elsewhere.

Tuition Paying Pupils

Thirteen non-resident pupils have been in attendance at the high school during the past year. One of these is a resident of Wolcott and as such is entitled to free tuition according to the terms of the Lewis fund. All other non-resident pupils are charged $45 per year. This year twenty-three non-resident tuition paying pupils are registered in the school.

THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS.

Need of Increased School Accomodations

The most pressing problem of the elementary schools has been and is that of adequate and suitable accomodations for the pupils. Relief has been afforded this year in the Beecher street district by the erection of a new four room building. This building is now practically filled with children from that district together with about twenty sixth-grade pupils from the South Center school. But the children of the sixth and seventh grades in the South Center school are without accomodations in their own district. Some of them are at Plantsville, some at the North Center and some as above stated are at Beecher street. These pupils have been crowded out of the South Center school by the necessity of finding room for the children in the lower grades. In all of the inside districts the primary grades are large. It is not possible, therefore, even if it were desirable, to send the little children from the South Center district to other schools. The expedient of putting the children on half time is not to be recommended unless the classes can be made much smaller than is the custom in Southington. It is impossible to prepare a class of the usual size for the next grade in one year with the school on half time. Even on full time, especially in the primary grades, large classes mean insufficient attention to individuals and consequent retardation or keeping back of many pupils who under more favorable conditions would have been promoted.

The problem of school accommodations promises within a short time to be larger than the South Center district. It is probable that in the very near future the ninth grade will be crowded out of the high school building. At present with nearly 200 pupils within its walls the high school building is well filled. Next year the number of pupils in all the schools will be larger even if the opening of the factories now in process of construction should not introduce any new pupils. It would be unwise to wait until we are brought face to face with the emergency before making any further attempt to solve the problem. This question in fact deserves immediate and serious consideration.

Reorganization of Elementary School Programs

The reorganization of the elementary school programs, the need of which was mentioned in the last report, has been brought about by a revision in the number of minutes per week allotted to the different studies. This readjustment saves time for both teachers and pupils by preventing certain less substantial subjects from receiving an undue emphasis. The work is now more systematically planned than before and each subject is accorded an amount of time proportionate to its educational value. There is, moreover, under the new plan an opportunity for extending the work in some of the more substantial subjects.

Work in Penmanship

One of the results of this reorganization of the school programs is the systemization of the work in penmanship. The inquiry by the superintendent concerning the amount of time given to handwriting revealed wide diversities among the various teachers. And the character of the instruction varied in like degree. Both these conditions were due to the absence of definite directions. A simple, sane and practical system of teaching handwriting is something to be desired for our schools. To establish a good handwriting the practice of good penmanship must extend beyond the writing lesson. When pupils are allowed to disregard the fundamental principles of penmanship in preparing their language, spelling, arithmetic, history or geography papers the time given to the formal writing lesson is practically wasted. A simple and at the same time what appears to be a most effective system of teaching penmanship has been adopted. The success of the plan, however, rests on the faithfulness of the class room teachers in always insisting on the pupils maintaining good positions of the body and hand. In other words, to accomplish the end desired the teachers must make every written lesson an exercise in good handwriting.

Plan of Determining Promotion Averages

A new plan of determining the average per cent for promotion has been introduced during the past year. Formerly a general average of 75 per cent was required for graduation and promotion in the grammar schools. In obtaining this general average all the subjects were reckoned of equal value and the marks in music, spelling and physiology contributed materially towards offsetting deficiencies in English, arithmetic, geography and history. It is easier to obtain a high per cent in music, spelling and physiology than in the other subjects mentioned above and to reckon all studies of the same value in estimating a pupil's fitness for promotion is undesirable. The new plan requires a general average of 75 per cent as before, but a minimum average of 70 per cent is demanded in English, arithmetic, geography and history. Less than 60 per cent in any study prevents promotion. In determining the promotion average instead of reckoning the daily recitations and written tests of equal value as formerly, the daily work counts two third and the written review one third.

Memorial Day Exercises

The Trumbull post, Grand Army of the Republic, relies in some measure upon the help of the school children on Memorial Day. This year through the assistance of Mr. Franklin G. Brown, a marching squad was organized among the boys in the upper grades of the grammar schools. This squad formed a part of the procession and made a very creditable appearance in the line of march. Only those who had attended drills were allowed to participate and in this way the appearance of a lot of stragglers following the Grand Army and Sons of Veterans was avoided. In the past it was only by exerting some pressure that boys would join the line of march and the girls likewise felt out of place. The plan tried last Memorial Day excused the girls from marching and made the boys feel that their appearance in the line was respectable and attractive. The girls formed on the green near the monument and rendered helpful assistance with music and recitations. The superintendent is in receipt of a letter signed by Mr. Chas. H. Clark, chairman of the Memorial Day committee, conveying to the teachers and pupils the hearty thanks of Trumbull Post for assistance rendered in carrying out the program on Memorial Day.

EVENING SCHOOL.

The establishment of an evening school in Southington is a matter of some importance. At the annual town meeting the need for such an institution was pointed out by the Chairman of the School Committee and by the Superintendent of Schools. It was argued that a large number of pupils leave the day schools before they have finished the grammar grades. These children have not acquired the reading or the study habit and there is little in their surroundings which would encourage them to do so. In other words, the educational resources of the town are few. What these children learned will soon be forgotten unless some opportunity and encouragement are provided for adding to it. The evening school will give these people a chance to review and to extend their education. The need of the non-English speaking foreigners of mature age was also pointed out. Not all of the people in Southington have been trained in the American public school. Many of the foreigners know little and understand less about our most highly prized institutions. The evening school will give these people the opportunity to learn to read and write English and incidentally to receive some instruction in the meaning of citizenship.

The town meeting on motion of the Chairman of the School Committee voted an appropriation of $150. This sum was considered sufficient to carry on the experiment for a period of ten weeks.

The work of organizing the school was begun immediately. Notices were sent to prospective pupils through the daily papers and by the distribution among the shops and factories of circulars printed in English, Italian and Polish. It was planned to hold three sessions each week for a period of ten weeks beginning January 30. The following classes were provided:

(1) a class for non-English speaking people or for those who speak English only slightly; (2) a class for pupils not attending any day school have never completed the grammar grades or who wish to review their studies. The subjects to be taken up in this class were reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic and United States history. (3) a class for pupils who are qualified to pursue the study of bookkeeping, penmanship and business arithmetic. The school opened on Monday evening, January 30, with a large attendance. On Wednesday evening the number was still greater and a notice was issued that no more could be received. In the class for non-English speaking people there were about 120 pupils. This necessitated handling this class in two sections, an unexpected situation. In the class in elementary school subjects, there were about 30 pupils and in the bookkeeping class a somewhat smaller number. There were in regular attendance during the first few weeks about 170 pupils.

An evening school is evidently needed in Southington during the coming winter. Steps should be taken to enable the school to be kept long enough for the town to receive from the state $2.25 for each pupil in average attendance. To do this the school should begin about the middle week in October.

THE INCREASING COST OF SCHOOLS.

"The increased cost of living, and the steadily increasing number and scope of public educational activities have rendered it necessary that larger expenditures be made for schools than in the past; it, therefore, becomes imperative that all communities in the Nation recognize, as many have already done, that more money must be contributed and expended for schools, both locally and by the state, if our young people are to have that kind and quality of education demanded by the times." (Declaration of National Education Association, July, 1911.)

Public school expenditures are increasing in every community. The hope of substantial reduction in the cost of maintaining the schools at a reasonable standard of efficiency is small. Expenses are bound to increase at a rate faster than the population if our schools are to keep pace with improvements and advances elsewhere. In these days it is not enough to keep things as good as they always have been. Standing still in educational matters is relatively a retrogressive movement of no slight amount. The important question should not be how slight an expenditure will run the schools for another year, but how much can be invested to advantage at any particular time in the business enterprise of training future citizens.

Our faith in education should be sufficient to the test of spending an amount of money necessary for the comfortable housing of our pupils in school buildings with modern hygienic and educational conveniences. Some people know what is going on in the educational world and are aware that many places possess educational advantages that we do not have, but the large majority of people everywhere need to be continually informed and advised in regard to school conditions. Our citizens really want good schools but they need help in defining what constitutes such institutions and what their material equipment should be.

Southington, by the way, expends very much less per pupil than most of the other towns in Connecticut; its cost per pupil in average attendance in the public schools is among the lowest in the state. There are only five towns having less average expenditure per pupil, but 162 in which the cost per individual is greater.

SCHOOL REPORT.

The interest of the townspeople in educational matters and their insight into the needs of the schools would be greatly increased it seems to me by a comprehensive annual report. The few pages in the report of the Selectmen which in the past have been devoted to school matters is rather a brief space in which to describe the work of school administration for a year and to discuss the present condition and future needs of the school system. There are a number of items of a statistical sort that should be recorded in some permanent form in an easily accessible place and there are many matters connected with the organization and administration of the schools and with the aims and policy of the superintendent and school committee concerning which parents and taxpayers should have definite and official information. The expenditure of about $30,000 per year in the instruction of nearly 1,500 children involves problems which should challenge the interest of all public spirited citizens. The faith of the American people in education is great. All over this country they are taxing themselves heavily for the instruction of their children. But the support of the people for school expenditures can only be gained by showing them the need for the outlay and by satisfying them that adequate educational results will follow. Education is a dynamic process, not a static condition. In other words, education is concerned with the adjustment of school instruction to ever changing social needs and a school report should lead the people to realize that fact. The problem of education is never solved and there will be constant need of furnishing the public with information in regard to necessary readjustments. The school committee and the superintendent can not move any faster than the public will follow. The people will always exercise their own judgment in educational matters. They should be encouraged to do this, and, to the end that they may judge intelligently, they should be afforded the fullest information by means of a comprehensive annual report from the school committee and the superintendent of schools.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM C. MOORE,

Superintendent of Schools.

Southington Public Library.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

The work of the library for the year ending August 31, 1911 is herewith submitted:

Number of books catalogued Sept. 1, 1910, 5172- number added during year 394, total 5566: condemned and destroyed 10: worn out 19, lost 2: number on hand Aug. 31, 1911, 5535.

Of the 394 volumes added, 292 were purchased, 80 by state grant, 15 were presented and 7 magazines, which were bound.

Additions are classified as follows: general 27, fiction 159, juvenile 48, philosophy 6, religion 10, sociology 32, philology 1, natural science 8, useful arts 9, fine arts 9, literature 35, travel 15, biography 27, history 8.

There have been 123 volumes rebound, seven of them being magazines. The library has been open 154 days with a total circulation of 17,387 books, an average of 112 books for each library day. In addition to this the branch libraries in the outlying districts report a circulation of 1,007, making a grand total of 18,394.

There are now five of these branch libraries, Queen street having been added since last year. Judging from their increased circulation, the branches are becoming quite popular. There have been 144 new names registered during the year. There are about the same number of magazines and periodicals in the reading room as last year and these are largely used.

Respectfully submitted,

EVA V. M. BISSELL, Librarian.

ALFRED M. SMITH, Secretary.

The year just ended has witnessed the resignation of Mrs. Lydia S. Sloper as Librarian. We know that the withdrawal of Mrs. Sloper from active connection with the library after such long and close association with it and its work will be regretted by all, but we feel that we are extremely fortunate in securing for her successor one who is eminently fitted in every respect for the carrying on of this important work. We know that the public joins us in our appreciation of the very excellent work being done by Mrs. Bissell.

ANNUAL REPORT OF HEALTH OFFICER.

The most extensive, if not the most serious epidemic of measles we have experienced for many years occurred this summer.

About 220 cases were reported during the months of May and June. At least four deaths have been directly attributed to this disease, which rather negatives the prevalent idea that it is a good thing to cultivate. Besides, there are many distressing after effects.

Because of the low percentage of deaths, the total of casualties is lost sight of. All houses from which cases have been reported have been placarded and the inmates cautioned, though I fear without much effect.

The serious interference with the work of the schools, the additional expense and trouble in the homes of the sick, should all tend to make the people avoid the infection so long as possible.

During the month of March, eight cases of scarlet fever were reported, all of which seemed to be directly or indirectly connected with the High school. At the first appearance of the disease, the school was closed and the building fumigated. About one week later school was reopened and soon other pupils were attacked by the fever. The school was again closed, the building fumigated, cleaned, well aired and kept closed for two weeks, after which the session was resumed and no further cases occurred.

In all cases of suspected diptheria, typhoid fever and tuberculosis, specimens are sent to the State Bacteriological Laboratory at Middletown for examination and their report is a very material aid. In scarlet fever and diptheria, every case is quarantined and, after recovery, the premises are fumigated. In tuberculosis, we can only caution the patient and friends in regard to disposal of sputum and the use of utensils. In typhoid fever, particular attention is paid to the disinfection of excreta and the cleansing or destruction of soiled linen.

During the year we have also sent the Laboratory 18 samples of milk and two of suspected water, upon which complete reports have been returned.

Quite a number of school children have been examined for infectious diseases of the eyes and skin, and for pediculosis, etc. No complete record has been kept so the exact number cannot be stated.

Nuisance complaints and abatements are not many, as they occur mostly in the borough and are included in the Borough report, which is apart from the town report.

Summary: Number of cases of

Measles	246
Scarlet fever	11
Diphtheria and croup	7
Tuberculosis	9
Typhoid fever	5
Infantile paralysis	2
Whooping cough not reported

Total 280

Nuisances abated:

Dead animals	2

Total 3

School children inspected (about)	20
School buildings inspected	13
School buildings fumigated	2
Milk examinations	18

Fire Commissioners

The Board of Fire Commissioners herewith submit a brief report of their doings with a report of the chief engineer of the fire department and a summary of the expense of same from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911.

During the year there have been held seventeen meetings, at which appointments have been made, purchases authorized and matters of interest to the welfare of the department discussed.

The commissioners have visited the different houses and have found the apparatus in as good condition as can be expected after 27 years of service, and the efficiency of the officers and members of the department has been all that could be expected of a volunteer department.

The direction and control of the men has been left largely to the chief engineer, to whose careful and judicious management the department largely owes its efficiency.

During the past year the fire losses in the town have been greater than of any year during the history of the department, owing to the loss at H. D. Smith & Co. factory.

The present service rendered by the supply wagon is very unsatisfactory and the commissioners have come to the conclusion that it is necessary to purchase a horse and stable, same close by the supply wagon, so as to get prompt service, or to purchase an auto combination chemical and hose truck.

During the past year the Board have thoroughly investigated the auto combination chemical and hose truck by visiting several factories where same are made and departments in surrounding towns where apparatus of this kind is in use and are of the unanimous opinion that an apparatus of this kind would greatly add to the efficiency of the department and would recommend the purchase of such apparatus.

The expenses of the department have been $1,425.35, as follows:

Janitors and stewards	$315.00
Fire service	405.25
Lights	57.84
Fuel	126.00
Supplies	242.44
Repairs	92.51
Miscellaneous	186.81

JOHN HEMINGWAY, Pres.

RICHARD NAGLES, Vice Pres.

F. C. ELY, Secretary.

CHARLES A. BROOKS.

TO THE BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS:

My report for the year ending September 1, 1911, is as follows: total number of fires, 20, of which there were 16 alarms and 4 still.

The total loss for the year, $69,200.

Respectfully submitted,

JUDSON NEAL, Chief Fire Department.
